Introduction

The Central Environmental Authority established a National Environmental Information System (ENIS) to provide information on all aspects of the environment to all categories of information users throughout the country.

The National Environmental Information Centre (Library) established an Environmental Library Network (ENLINET) in 1993. There are 20 libraries participating in this network to cover all environmental related subjects. ENLINET libraries have initiated several programmes to promote better utilization of information resources in the participating libraries.

The directory will be usable as a basic information tool to identify and assess the environmental libraries, information centres in Sri Lanka. It will also be useful for librarians and other users to assess and rationalise the development of collections. It is comprehensive and informative.

The Directory includes 20 entries. The entries are arranged in alphabetical order. A list of abbreviations and participating libraries lists have been included.

The compiler thanks all librarians and officers in charge of the libraries who have provided necessary information for the compilation of this Directory. The compiler thanks Mrs. R. Weerakoon for typing the publication.
